Financial review

Financial performance

The financial results depict satisfactory performance of the Company during the fiscal year ended June 30, 2015. However, gross profit of the Company decreased as compared to the last year because:

1. the Company was unable to operate on 100% production capacity due to non/short availability of energy.
2. higher cost of inputs excluding raw material.
3. severe competition in international and local markets.
4. sluggish textile market due to depressed cotton price.
5. strengthening of Pak Rupee against USD.

The noticeable increase in net profit is only due to notional income incorporated from restructuring with National Bank Of Pakistan as per IAS 39.

Financial highlights	2015	2014
Net sales	3,756,906,768	4,199,161,232
Gross Profit	327,863,603	405,352,767
EBITDA	380,971,500	256,308,681
Depreciation	155,458,285	167,459,038
Finance Cost	166,340,523	193,112,234
Pre-tax profit	225,513,215	88,849,643
After tax profit	203,066,742	63,453,852

Net sales decreased by 10.53% whereas gross profit decreased by 19.12% as compared to corresponding period. EBITDA increased by 48.64%, pre-tax and after tax profits are increased by 153.81% and 220.05% respectively. Finance cost decreased by 7.17% as compared to the corresponding period ended June 30, 2014.

Sales revenue and production decreased owing to depressed market conditions and shortage of electricity and gas. Grey fabric business faced a strenuous time during the period under review. The Company produced 23.1 million linear meters of fabric as compared to 24.9 million linear meters last year. Similarly, sales quantity limited to 22.8 million linear meters as compared to 24.4 million linear meters in last year. Towel production slightly increased from 2,287 tons to 2,386 tons.

Gross profit reduced mainly due to severe production losses and increased conversion cost like wages, fuel and power. The increasing cost of production resulting from Pakistan's energy crisis has been the textile industry's primary setback. Although, there was positive adjustments in terms of Fuel Price Adjustment due to reduced fuel prices in the International market, the benefit of the same was not reaped due to levy of additional taxes and surcharges. FC-Surcharge (Financing Cost Surcharge) and TR-Surcharge (Tariff Rationalization Surcharge) levied in LESCO bills from June, 2015. Similarly, stay against GIDC (Gas Infrastructure Development Cess) vacated by the Supreme Court of Pakistan in favour of SNGPL and the industry had to bear its cost and cash outflow. This deteriorated the profitability and especially cash flow of the entire textile industry leaving it in liquidity crunch.

Finance cost decreased by 7.17% as compared to last year because of long term loans' regular repayments and restructuring with the National Bank Of Pakistan. The Company paid Rs.100 million as an upfront to the restructuring agreement which reduced long term principal. All pending mark up was calculated on cost of funds at around 7% and converted to non-serviceable long term loan, which significantly improved current ratio. The Company also successfully negotiated reduced pricing for the remaining payment period.

Extra ordinary other income represents the notional income incorporated from mark up free loan repayable in 28 quarterly installments as an outcome of restructuring with National Bank of Pakistan. High pre-tax and after tax profits are for the same reasons.

Current and future perspective

Historically the textile industry in Pakistan has always been one of the most competitive producers of textile raw materials. Pakistan has enjoyed this position unchallenged for many decades, owing to the cheap cotton, modern equipment and a trained and reasonably efficient work force. This competitive advantage has eroded over the last two years. The main reasons for this loss in competitive advantage are rising cost of labour and energy, coupled with an unfavorable and unrealistic exchange rate of the Pak rupee VS the US Dollar, and other western currencies.

This scenario has put the Export oriented Pakistan Textile Industry at a disadvantage with some of our traditional competitors like China, India, Bangladesh, Indonesia, in some instances even Turkish Mills have been able to compete with Pakistani producers. This is mainly because almost all the countries named above have applied significant devaluation to their exchange rate. While the management hopes that our financial mavens in Islamabad will address this anomaly in the short term, lack of global competitiveness will remain a major cause for concern in the current period and near future.

Last year the company had started a line of men's wear fabric for the local market under the Zebrands division. The initial results are quite encouraging. This division is earmarked to grow 100% in the current year with further growth planned over the next three years.

The addition of 4 jacquard terry looms in the year under review have started to bear dividends, and we have been able to secure high value orders for jacquard towels. Despite the erosion of competitive advantage the company was able to post a modest increase in Towel sales. With focus on Jacquards, yarn dyes, and kitchen towels the company is expecting to post a healthy growth in the coming period.

To achieve all this the company is planning to invest rupees 120 to 150 million in additional equipment in the areas of terry weaving, terry finishing, yarn dyeing and automated stitching. All this will be complemented with rupees 40 to 50 million in civil construction for machinery and warehousing. Another rupees 15 to 20 million is earmarked for worker's housing construction.

Working capital management

There is significant improvement in Company's current and quick ratios as compared to corresponding period. Current and quick ratios increased at 1.26 and 0.37 from 0.77 and 0.231 respectively. There is significant improvement in current and quick ratio because of converting short term finances into long term in the restructuring agreement with National Bank Of Pakistan. The Company is also in negotiations with National Bank of Pakistan for a new working capital line of Rs. 220 million as per restructuring agreement. This new working capital line will definitely capacitate the Company to enhance its business operations with full zeal and zest.

Capital structure

Leverage of the Company also recorded significant improvement from 1.63 last year to 1.16 as at June 30, 2015. The management of the Company is enthusiastic to increase share holders' wealth with its proactive approach.

The responsibility for compliance with the Code is that of the Board of Directors of the Company. Our responsibility is to review, to the extent where such compliance can be objectively verified, whether the Statement of Compliance reflects the status of the Company's compliance with the provisions of the Code of Corporate Governance and report if it does not and to highlight any non-compliance with the requirements of the Code. A review is limited primarily to inquiries of the Company personnel and review of various documents prepared by the Company to comply with the Code.

As a part of our audit of the financial statements we are required to obtain an understanding of the accounting and internal control systems sufficient to plan the audit and develop an effective audit approach. We are not required to consider whether the Board of Directors' statement on internal control covers all risks and controls or to form an opinion on the effectiveness of such internal controls, the Company's corporate governance procedures and risks.

The Code requires the Company to place before the Audit Committee, and upon recommendation of the Audit Committee, place before the Board of Directors for their review and approval its related party transactions distinguishing between transactions carried out on terms equivalent to those that prevail in arm's length transactions and transactions which are not executed at arm's length price and recording proper justification for using such alternate pricing mechanism. We are only required and have ensured compliance of this requirement to the extent of the approval of the related party transactions by the Board of Directors upon recommendation of Audit Committee. We have not carried out any procedures to determine whether the related party transactions were undertaken at arm's length price or not.

Based on our review, nothing has come to our attention which causes us to believe that the Statement of Compliance does not appropriately reflect the Company's compliance, in all material respects, with the best practices contained in the Code of Corporate Governance as applicable to the Company for the year ended June 30, 2015.

Actual results may differ from these estimates. These estimates and underlying assumptions are recognized in the period in which the estimate is revised and in any future periods affected. Following are the significant estimates and judgments made by the management:

5.3 Investments

Classification of an investment is made on the basis of intended purpose for holding such investment. Management determines the appropriate classification of its investments at the time of purchase and re-evaluates such designation on regular basis.

Investments are initially measured at fair value plus transaction costs directly attributable to acquisition, except for 'Investment at fair value through profit or loss' which is initially measured at fair value.

The Company assesses at the end of each reporting period whether there is any objective evidence that investments are impaired. If any such evidence exists, the Company applies the provisions of IAS 39 'Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement' to all investments.

Investment at fair value through profit and loss

Investments classified as held-for-trading and those designated as such are included in this category. Investments are classified as held-for-trading if these are acquired for the purpose of selling in the short term. Gains or losses on investments held-for-trading are recognized in profit and loss account.

Held-to-maturity

Investments with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturity are classified as held-to-maturity when the Company has the positive intention and ability to hold to maturity. Investments intended to be held for an undefined period are not included in this classification. Other long-term investments that are intended to be held to maturity are subsequently measured at amortized cost. This cost is computed as the amount initially recognized minus principal repayments, plus or minus the cumulative amortization, using the effective interest method, of any difference between the initially recognized amount and the maturity amount. For investments carried at amortized cost, gains and losses are recognized in profit and loss account when the investments are de-recognized or impaired, as well as through the amortization process.

Available-for-sale

Investments intended to be held for an indefinite period of time, which may be sold in response to need for liquidity, or changes to interest rates or equity prices are classified as available-for-sale. After initial recognition, investments which are classified as available-for-sale are measured at fair value. Gains or losses on available-for-sale investments are recognized directly in statement of other comprehensive income until the investment is sold, de-recognized or is determined to be impaired, at which time the cumulative gain or loss previously reported in statement of other comprehensive income is included in profit and loss account. These are sub-categorized as under:

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the year ended June 30, 2015

a) Quoted

For investments that are actively traded in organized capital markets, fair value is determined by reference to stock exchange quoted market bids at the close of business on the balance sheet date. Fair value of investments in open-end mutual funds is determined using redemption price.

b) Unquoted

Fair value of unquoted investments is determined on the basis of appropriate valuation techniques as allowed by IAS 39 'Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement'.

5.4 Stores, spare parts and loose tools

Useable stores, spare parts and loose tools are valued principally at lower of moving average cost, or net realizable value (NRV), while items considered obsolete are carried at nil value. Goods in transit are stated at cost comprising invoice value plus other charges paid thereon.

5.5 Stock in trade

Stock in trade is valued at lower of cost and net realizable value (NRV), except waste which is valued at net realizable value. Materials in transit are stated at cost comprising invoice value plus other charges paid thereon.

Cost of major components of stock in trade is determined as follows:-

Raw material	- at weighted average cost
Work in process and finished goods	- at prime cost plus appropriate production overheads determined on weighted average basis.

Net realizable value signifies the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less costs necessarily to be incurred to make the sale.

Trade debts and other receivables are carried at original invoice value less an estimate made for doubtful debts based on a review of all outstanding amounts at the year end. Bad debts are written off when identified.

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the year ended June 30, 2015

5.10 Financial instruments

Financial instruments carried on the balance sheet include investments, deposits, trade debts, loans and advances, other receivables, cash and bank balances, long term financing, short term borrowings, accrued mark up and trade and other payables etc. Financial assets and liabilities are recognized when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of instruments. Initial recognition is made at fair value plus transaction costs directly attributable to acquisition, except for 'financial instruments at fair value through profit or loss' which are initially measured at fair value.

Financial assets are de-recognized when the Company loses control of the contractual rights that comprise the financial asset. The Company loses such control if it realizes the rights to benefits specified in contract, the rights expire or the Company surrenders those rights. Financial liabilities are de-recognized when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expired. Any gain or loss on subsequent measurement (except available for sale investments) and de-recognition is charged to the profit or loss currently. The particular measurement methods adopted are disclosed in the individual policy statements associated with each item.

5.11 Capital work in progress

All non-monetary items are translated into Pak Rupees at exchange rates prevailing on the date of transaction or on the date when fair values are determined. Exchange gains and losses are recorded in the profit and loss account.

Notes to the Financial Statements

Rebate income is recognized on accrual basis.

5.14 Taxation

Current

Provision for current tax is based on the taxable income for the year determined in accordance with the prevailing law for taxation of income. The charge for current tax is calculated using prevailing tax rates or tax rates expected to apply to the profit for the year, if enacted. The charge for current tax also includes adjustments, where considered necessary, to provision for tax made in previous years arising from assessments framed during the year for such years.

Deferred

Deferred tax is provided using the balance sheet liability method for all temporary differences at the balance sheet date between tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amount for financial reporting purposes. In this regard the effects on deferred taxation of the portion of income subject to final tax regime is also considered in accordance with the requirement of 'Technical Release - 27' issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Pakistan.

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the year ended June 30, 2015

5.15 Impairment

Financial assets

A financial asset is considered to be impaired if objective evidence indicate that one or more events had a negative effect on the estimated future cash flows of that asset.

An impairment loss in respect of a financial asset measured at amortized cost is calculated as a difference between its carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows discounted at the original effective interest rate. An impairment loss in respect of available for sale financial asset is calculated with reference to its current fair value.

Individually significant financial assets are tested for impairment on an individual basis. The remaining financial assets are assessed collectively in groups that share similar credit risk characteristics.

Non-financial assets

The carrying amounts of the Company's non-financial assets are reviewed at each balance sheet date to determined whether there is any indication of impairment. If such indication exists, the recoverable amount of such asset is estimated. An impairment loss is recognized wherever the carrying amount of the asset exceeds its recoverable amount. Impairment losses are recognized in profit and loss account. A previously recognized impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the estimates used to determined the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognized. If that is the case, the carrying amount of the asset is increased to its recoverable amount. That increased amount cannot exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation, had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognized in profit and loss account.

5.16 Provisions

Provisions are recognized when the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that out flow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate of the amount can be made. However, provisions are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimate.

5.17 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash in hand, cash at banks on current, saving and deposit accounts and other short term highly liquid instruments that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and which are subject to insignificant risk of changes in values.

5.18 Related party transactions

Transactions with related parties are priced on arm's length basis. Prices for these transactions are determined on the basis of comparable uncontrolled price method, which sets the price by reference to comparable goods and services sold in an economically comparable market to a buyer unrelated to the seller.

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the year ended June 30, 2015

5.19 Dividend and other appropriations

36.1 Financial risk factors

The Company has exposures to the following risks from its use of financial instruments:

- Credit risk
- Liquidity risk
- Market risk (Currency risk, other price risk and interest rate risk)

The Board of Directors has overall responsibility for the establishment and oversight of Company's risk management framework. The Board is also responsible for developing and monitoring the Company's risk management policies.

Concentration and management of credit risk

Credit risk represents the accounting loss that would be recognized at the reporting date if counter parties fail completely to perform as contracted.

Credit risk from cash and cash equivalents, derivative financial instruments and deposits with banks and financial institution, as well as credit exposures to customers, including trade receivables and committed transactions. Out of total financial assets of Rs. 440.571 million (2014: Rs. 465.856 million), the financial assets that are subject to credit risk amounted to Rs. 401.868 million (2014: Rs. 374.483 million).

For trade receivables, internal risk assessments process determines the credit quality of the customer, taking into account its financial position, past experience and other factors. Individual risk limits are set based on internal and external ratings in accordance with the limits set by the management. The utilization of credit limit is regularly monitored. Accordingly, the credit risk is minimal and the Company also believes that it is not exposed to major concentration of credit risk.

Concentration of the credit risk arises when the number of counter parties engaged in similar business activities or have similar economic features that would cause their abilities to meet contractual obligation to be similarly effected by the changes in economic, political or other conditions. The Company believes that it is not exposed to major concentration risk.

The Company monitors the credit quality of the financial assets with reference to the historical performance of such assets and available external credit ratings. The carrying value of financial assets which are neither past due nor impaired are as under:

Therefore, the management envisages that sufficient financial resources will be available for the continuing operations of the Company.

36.2 Capital risk management

The Company's objectives when managing capital are to safeguard the entity's ability to continue as a going concern, so that it can continue to provide adequate returns for shareholders and benefits for other stakeholders, and to maintain a strong capital base to support the sustained development of its business.

The Company manages its capital structure which comprises capital and reserves by monitoring return on net assets and makes adjustments to it in the light of changes in economic conditions. In order to maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Company may adjust the amount of dividend paid to shareholders, appropriation of amounts to capital reserves or/and issue new shares, as the case may be.

Consistent with others in the industry, the Company manages its capital risk by monitoring its debt levels and liquid assets and keeping in view future investment requirements and expectations of the shareholders. Debt is calculated as total borrowings ("long term financing" and "short term borrowings" as shown in the balance sheet). Total capital comprises shareholders' equity as shown in the balance sheet under "share capital and reserves" and net debt.
